INTRODUCTION

The Australian Association for Research in Education (AARE) acknowledges that its Executive Committee operates more effectively when the members and office-bearers of the Executive know their respective duties and obligations.

PURPOSE

This policy seeks to ensure that members and office-bearers of the Executive Committee know their respective duties and obligations.

DUTIES & RESPONSIBILITIES

Members and Office-bearers of the Executive Committee shall have the duties and obligations set out in the Position Statements, below.

These are based on the AARE Constitution, the Associations Incorporation Act 1985 (SA) ('the AIA') under which AARE is incorporated, policy and practice within AARE and the roles as they apply generally within professional membership associations.

The President shall be responsible for including this policy in the induction package provided to new Executive Committee members and for resolving any point in dispute in this policy.

The Secretary shall be responsible for ensuring that a copy of this policy is available for reference in Executive Committee meetings.

A list of current Executive Committee members is maintained at www.aare.edu.au/about-us/executive/.

The Executive Committee is supported by Association and Conference Management Service Providers.
